

GOVERNORS FROLIC AT OYSTER FEAST; NORFOLK IS HOST

State Executives Give Up
Richmond Conference for Day.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 4.—Visiting State executives here today on a holiday from their regular conferences at Richmond, were entertained at Virginia Beach at an oyster feast today as guests of the city, and taken on a tour of inspection through the navy yard at Portsmouth and the army reservation at Fort Monroe.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 4.—The thirty State executives here for the fifth annual conference of governors, left today for a visit to Norfolk, abandoning their program for meeting as originally planned. The governors will be guests of the city of Norfolk.

The executives will return to Richmond in time for a meeting tonight at which session Governor Oddie, of Nevada, will lead discussion on uniform marriage and divorce laws and Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin, will talk on a state income tax.

The conference plans to employ a permanent secretary and to adopt a complete plan of organization. It was understood that St. C. Riley, of Madison, Wis., will likely get the post of permanent secretary.

Old Eli's Loyal Sons To Arrange Banquet

Arrangements for the annual banquet of the Yale Alumni Association, to be held in January or February, will be started at the annual meeting this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock in the directors' room of the Union Trust Company.

Principal business will be election of officers and a committee will be appointed to handle the annual feast.

James Hayden, attorney, assistant supporter of "Old Eli," an ardent supporter of the position of president of the association next year. Plans also will be made to entertain members of the Yale University Dramatic Association, which will give a performance of Tolstoy's "Fruits of Culture" in the Columbia Theater December 27.

JUSTICE WILL GIVE OPINION IN PERSON

Alexandria Suit for Acquisition of Territory Will Probably Be Decided Next Week—Associated Players to Have Benefit.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU,
ALEXANDRIA, VA., DEC. 4.

Instead of following the usual custom of writing his decision and filing it with the clerk of the court in which the case is heard, Judge Bennett T. Gordon, of Nelson county, will come to Alexandria county and render his decision in person in the case of Alexandria city vs. the counties of Fairfax and Alexandria, to secure additional territory for the city's expansion. This action will be taken by Judge Gordon on account of the importance of the case as well as to give the attorneys an opportunity to make such motions as they may desire in case it is decided to take the case to the higher court.

It is believed that Judge Gordon will conclude his opinion some time during this week, and will come to Alexandria early next week. Since hearing the arguments of the attorneys three weeks ago, he has been constantly engaged in hearing other cases in his own district, and has had but little time to prepare his opinion in the annexation matter.

The Associated Players of Alexandria will be even again at the opera house on next Wednesday night, when they will present "The Noble Outcast" for the benefit of the Elks' Christmas charities. This organization was recently seen in the same play at the opera house for the benefit of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, when they scored a decided success.

Miss Flora Hendley, supervising principal of the Washington schools, made an address yesterday afternoon before the Alexandria Teachers' Association.

The Old Folks' concert, given by the choir of St. Paul's Church last night, at the Norton Memorial building, drew a capacity audience, which seemed to greatly enjoy the songs of olden days.

Seminole Tribe, No. 35, Improved Order of Red Men, gave their third annual banquet last night at Ramon's Hotel. The table was elaborately decorated, and more than fifty Red Men were present. The toastmaster was R. C. Sullivan, post sachem, and the speakers of the evening were the

TOWN'S ONLY BARBER IS STOPPED BY LAW

Renting of Place in New Jersey
Does Not Save Tonsorial Artist.

DEAL, N. J., Dec. 4.—Santa Claus whiskers and Van Dyke beards will be all the rage in Deal this winter, although at present the men's anger is directed against citizens whose action has deprived the town of its only barber shop.

Arthur Mangaranello opened a shop in Borough Hall. He did a rushing business, and the percentage of clean-shaven men in Deal greatly increased. A clause in the deeds of all Deal property owners restrains them from ever using their properties for purposes of "trade store or shop."

The barber thought he had evaded this restriction when he opened his shop in the public hall, but Vice Chancellor Howell has sustained the complaint of residents, who shuddered to see the sanctity of their residential town invaded by commercialism, and an injunction has been granted compelling Mangaranello to close up.
